

Annual Report 2021-22
Women's Development and Gender Sensitisation Cell
Indraprastha College for Women
University of Delhi

In 2021-22, the Women's Development and Gender Sensitisation Cell of Indraprastha College for Women (IPCW) organized a range of events - including movie screenings, International Women's Day celebrations, a webinar on sexual harassment, elections, and Unmukt - an annual event which celebrates inclusivity and non-heteronormative notions of gender. Through these events, the Cell was able to engage a young, passionate audience by unveiling a discussion among the faculty and students on ideas such as caste and representation, feminist futures and expressions, and queer-affirmative mental health practice in India. This year, the Cell successfully transitioned to offline events and received a positive college-wide response to its many initiatives.

1. Rangeen Pardey: Queer Film Festival (July 2021)

The WDC and Queer Collective organised an online pride film screening and discussion series from 19 to 23 July. The event featured a talk on queer representation in popular narratives by Ms. Srinjoyee Dutta, assistant professor, department of English at IPCW. Ms. Dutta discussed the possibilities of queer representation through a vivid range of examples from Hindi and English films. The five-day long series received enthusiastic response from students as a wide variety of films from the subcontinent were screened. The films included Darling, The LGBTQ Alphabet, Sisak, and Aadat.

5. Unmukt 2022 (February 2022)

On 14 February 2022, the Queer Collective and WDC organised Unmukt 2022 - an annual event. The fourth edition of Unmukt was kickstarted with a lecture by Dr. Ketki Ranade or as they like to call themselves Dr. KP. They discussed conceptualising Queer Affirmative Mental Health Practice in India. The workshop was not just about celebration of "pride" but actually diving deep into experiences, cultural connotations and removing the stigma around this topic. A diverse range of about 100 people attended the session and together questioned the normative problematic social structure. It ended on a positive note of paying attention to lived experiences and using experience as the origin of knowledge instead of putting this into little scientific parameters.

Attended by 85 students

On the occasion of International Women's Day on 8 March, the WDC organised a talk on the theme 'Feminist Pasts and Futures' in conversation with Professor Srila Roy, Associate Professor at University of Witwatersrand session chaired by Ms. Srinjoyee Dutta, Assistant Professor, English at IPCW. The event was graced by the principal Prof. Babli Moitra Saraf.

Day-1 of the event was opened by Prof. Roy covering the lengths and breadths of the feminist movement in India and the ordeals that crossed its way whilst explaining why it is important to revisit the past. Prof. Roy went elaborated on the contemporary topic well with minute details, taking the audience through the varied meanings of the term 'feminism and the significance of it. She enlightened the listeners by explaining the gravity of the term and how it imparts strength to women with an intersectoral expansion of the Indian feminism. She emphasized on topics like the politicization and NGOization of important historical resistance movements. She also highlighted on the amplification of Queer voices, sex workers' conditions, the LGBTQIA+ community, Dalit women and the need to include them in the conversations and subject of Feminism. She took us back and forth from the three waves of feminism to the new-age liberalized idea of feminism.

Proceedingly, the Principal, Prof. Babli Moitra Saraf discussed the erased idea and history of feminism because of the digital divide on social media. The speaker took questions of importance from the audience revolving around new-age feminism and their understanding of it. The event came to its culmination with the release of WDC's special publication, 'Gendertopia'.
